Lake Geneva Update

Lake Geneva is one of my favorite places to fish. The lake is so beautiful and holds a nice variety of fish species and it is one of the best smallmouth bass fisheries in southern Wisconsin. It is a deep clear lake and warms up slowly in the spring. Some of the best fishing on Lake Geneva is in June and early July. Being a clear lake, fishing is always better in low light conditions. Cloudy days with some wind are the ideal days to go fishing on Lake Geneva.

We usually target bass when fishing on Lake Geneva. A variety of techniques work well there including plastic worms and skirted jigs. Suspending jerk baits, chatter baits and spinnerbaits work at times too. Finesse techniques like drop shotting around the weeds work well. The lake has a variety of structure including main lake points, ledges, rocky areas and weeds.

Give me a call to schedule your trip to Lake Geneva. I recommend fishing during the week if you can.
